03 FORGE REPORT

WHAT'S WORKING

- Tap-to-call is wired up. The phone number is a live tel: link on both the homepage and contact page, so a phone visitor can dial (918) 899-9189 in one tap. (Mobile 6)
- Real project photography. The homepage uses genuine portfolio images of completed Tulsa work — all six carry alt text — which builds trust most trade sites never earn. (Design 6)
- Keyword-aware page title. The browser tab reads "LANDSCAPER JOES - Tulsa Landscape Designer," pairing the brand with the city-and-trade intent Google looks for.

WHAT'S COSTING YOU LEADS NOW

- Homepage has no H1 heading. The front page ships zero <h1> tag, so search engines get no primary topic signal for your most important page. (Tech SEO 4)
- Zero structured data anywhere. Neither the homepage nor the contact page carries any JSON-LD — no Organization, LocalBusiness, or service-area markup for Google or AI assistants to read. (AEO/GEO 2)
- Email is hidden from machines. joe@landscaperjoes.com only appears as Cloudflare-obfuscated script, so there is no clean mailto: hook a visitor or booking agent can grab.
- No lead form on the homepage. Every contact path forces a click through to /contact.html; a high-intent homepage visitor has no inline way to request a quote. (CRO 5)

04 YOUR AI SEARCH BLIND SPOT

AEO + GEO · HOW MACHINES READ YOUR SITE

When a Tulsa homeowner asks an AI assistant — ChatGPT, Gemini, or Google's AI overview — "who does landscape design and retaining walls near Tulsa?", your site hands the model almost nothing it can quote. There is no FAQ schema, no LocalBusiness entity data, and no answer-shaped paragraphs describing your services and service area.

The content reads as page copy, not extractable answers, and your homepage doesn't even declare an H1 topic. So generative engines reach past you to competitors whose pages are structured for retrieval — and as more searches begin inside an AI assistant, this is the gap that quietly leaves you out of the recommendation.

// machine-readiness probe — answer & generative engines
FAQ / QAPage schema ..... ABSENT
Answer paragraphs (40-60 words) .... ABSENT
Entity / Organization JSON-LD ..... ABSENT
Service-area structured data ..... ABSENT

COMBINED AI VISIBILITY

A blended index of how discoverable you are to answer engines, generative search, and autonomous agents — the AI layer that increasingly sits between customers and local businesses.

05 AGENTIC & FUTURE READINESS

CAN AN AUTONOMOUS AI AGENT ACTUALLY USE YOUR SITE?

A growing share of bookings will soon be initiated by AI agents acting for a customer — pulling your phone number, service area, and hours automatically. We probed whether your pages expose that information in a machine-readable way:

The tap-to-call link is a genuine plus an agent can use, but with no structured NAP, no llms.txt, and no semantic landmarks, an AI booking agent would struggle to confirm your service area or email and may move on to a competitor it can read cleanly. This door is open today and closing.

// agent-access probe
Semantic HTML5 landmarks ..... ABSENT   Weebly divs; no section/nav/main/footer tags robots.txt bot permissions .... UNVERIFIED llms.txt ..... ABSENT
Machine-readable NAP ..... ABSENT   name / address / phone not structured Tap-to-call & mailto hooks .... PARTIAL  tel: present; email is Cloudflare-obfuscated, no clean mailto

THE DISCONNECT BETWEEN REPUTATION AND VISIBILITY

You hold a strong 4.7 rating across 37 reviews on Google — solid social proof for a Tulsa landscaper. Yet with no LocalBusiness schema, no homepage H1, and an email hidden from crawlers, that reputation is largely invisible at the moment someone actually searches.

Several local competitors carry far higher review counts, so your map-pack visibility is the battleground. The reviews you have earned are an asset that currently lives on Google alone and does almost nothing for the website itself.

07 ACCESSIBILITY & COMPLIANCE

SCORE 5 / 10 · INCLUDED BECAUSE IT'S BELOW THRESHOLD

A portion of your potential customers — and Google's own ranking systems — depend on an accessible site. We found gaps that are both a legal-exposure risk and a quiet ranking drag:

// accessibility & compliance probe
Image alt text ..... ADEQUATE    all 6 homepage images carry alt attributes
ARIA landmark roles ..... ABSENT   no semantic section/nav/main landmarks
Heading hierarchy ..... MINIMAL    homepage missing an H1
Privacy policy ..... ABSENT
Cookie consent notice .... ABSENT

Adding a proper H1 and semantic landmarks is the priority fix — it improves screen-reader navigation and search topic clarity in the same change.

08 THE 30-DAY PLAN

WEEK 1	WEEK 2	WEEK 3	WEEK 4
Stop the bleeding Add a homepage H1, expose a clean mailto: for joe@landscaperjoes.com, and add an inline quote form above the fold.	Fix the foundation Introduce semantic landmarks and a proper heading hierarchy so crawlers and screen readers can navigate the page.	Open the AI door Add LocalBusiness, Organization, and FAQ JSON-LD plus structured NAP so Google and AI assistants can quote you.	Convert the win Surface your 4.7-star Google reviews on the homepage and add a sticky mobile call bar.

09 BOTTOM LINE

THE ONE THING THAT MATTERS MOST

Landscaper Joe's runs a clean Weebly site with real project photos, working tap-to-call, and a genuine 4.7-star reputation, but the homepage has no H1, no structured data, and no inline lead form. The single highest-leverage move is adding LocalBusiness and FAQ schema alongside a proper homepage H1 and quote form, so the brand becomes readable to Google and AI assistants instead of invisible. Doing so converts a strong-but-hidden reputation into recovered, trackable inbound calls and quote requests from Tulsa searches.
